Rolling out the New Process

Part of the rollout for the new medication administration process is for each staff member to review the e-learning video. We understand that it may seem that you are constantly being bombarded with new requirements and that staff members know how to give out medications to their patients, but if by reviewing the video you pick up one thing that helps us eliminate medication errors, then it is a worthwhile exercise. We are marching towards a goal of ensuring that 100% of our staff reviews the e-learning video. To this goal the following units have made some great strides.

- Oncology from 50% to 67% - 17% improvement!
- 6 West from 76% to 84% - 8% improvement
- Family Birthing from 82% to 90% - 8% improvement

Continuous improvement is all about taking it one step at a time.

Rolling up Their Sleeves

In their first couple weeks with us, our 4 MBA students have already implanted themselves in the teams by rolling up their sleeves and getting involved. Amy is working on the Inpatient project, Samantha is in with the ICU group, Renato is helping the Clinics team and as you can see here, Connor is getting comfortable in the OR.

WROC n' WROL Challenge

We are laying down the challenge to all the project teams to come out and support the WROC n' WROL Walk to celebrate the 2nd anniversary of hospital realignment. The walk between campuses takes place Saturday, September 26 at 10 am starting at the Met Campus. Prizes will be awarded for best individual and group costume and bragging rights are at stake!

Have a great weekend!!
